

Time: Tuesday May 3rd, 2011 5:00pm

Location: Buchanan A203

Modelling with Uncertainty

Rebecca deBoer, University of Alberta

Mathematical modeling can be a useful tool in understanding disease transmission, but parameters values are often difficult to determine with certainty. In this talk I will use an HIV transmission model to demonstrate one method of analyzing model outcomes when parameter values are uncertain.