

Mathematics and Creative Writing

You are invited to an event in celebration of creative writing in mathematics and science, and the publication of The Shape of Content, edited by Chandler Davis, Marjorie Senechal and Jan Zwicky.

Creative writing about the content of mathematics and science is rare, and creative writing about the activity of mathematics and scientific creation is even rarer. This book arose from a unique and remarkable endeavor with practitioners who engage mathematics and science in their work.

We hope that graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, poets, writers, and academics will attend this event. Everybody is welcome.

Sponsored by the Pacific Institute for the Mathematical Sciences (PIMS). Contact pims@uvic.ca for details.
