

PIMS - CNRS INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH LAB

The PIMS - CNRS International Research Lab (IRL) has been championing the mutual exchange of knowledge since 2007. It builds and fosters collaboration in the mathematical sciences between Western Canada and France. The IRL spans across all PIMS member universities in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Washington (USA).

- 2007: The first PIMS - CNRS agreement was signed (by Ivar Ekeland, former PIMS Director) making PIMS a CNRS - UMI (Unité Mixte International) with the official title of "PIMS - Europe".
- PIMS becomes the first North American UMI in the mathematical sciences and still the only one in Western Canada.
- 2019: Agreement renewed: PIMS - CNRS International Research Lab (IRL #3069).
- PIMS remains the only IRL in Western Canada.

"This format and label of CNRS projects is one of the most prestigious in the domain of its international cooperation. It recognizes not only the high quality of the research and person-to-person interactions, but also allows a wide range of scientific activities, including the international mobility of faculty members as well as PhD and student research training. It also opens opportunities for research funding within France and the European Union." Antoine Petit, CNRS President and CEO during the 2019 CNRS renewal Ceremony.

FLAGSHIP PROGRAMS

CNRS VISITORS

Distinguished French researchers (at a French university or a CNRS lab) spend the academic year at one of PIMS member universities and participate in research activities. Since 2007, PIMS has hosted 41 visitors.

Visitors since 2020 include: Benjamin Audoux (Marseille), Filippo Nuccio (Université St. Etienne), Tahar Boulmezaoud (Versailles Saint-Quentin-en-Yvelines), Ismael Bailleul (Rennes), Thomas Richard (Laboratoire d'Analyse et de Mathématiques Appliquées), Abigail Dah (ENSEEIH), Louis Viennot (Centrale Supelac), Romain Ageron (Centrale Supelac), Jules Mirone (Ecole Polytechnique), Nicholas Legendre (Centrale Supelac), Clément Soubrier (Centrale Supelac), Aurelien Line (Toulouse INP), Leonard Dekens (ENS Lyons) and Vincent Calvez (ICJ Lyon).

PIMS - EUROPE FELLOWSHIP

The PIMS - Europe Fellowship program aims to support research collaborations between mathematical scientists at PIMS member universities and researchers across France by facilitating long-term visits to France.

Awardees since 2018 include: Steven Rayan (USask to Nice), Marni Mishna (SFU to Bordeaux), Slim Ibrahim (UVic to Rennes), Gourab Ray (UVic to Paris Diderot), Cedric Chauve (SFU to Bordeaux), Jennifer McCloud-Mann (UWashington to Bordeaux), Manish Patnaik (UALberta to Institut Camille Jordan Lyon), Yaozhing Hu (UALberta to Institut de Mathématiques de Bourgogne), Sabin Cautis (UBC to Orsay), Jinniao Qiu (UCalgary to Paris-Dauphine), Rachel Ollivier (UBC to Orsay) and Habiba Kadiri (ULEthbridge to Marseille).

CNRS POSTES ROUGES

Each year, faculty members at any level from PIMS member universities are invited to apply for the opportunity to collaborate on scientific projects with hosts at Unités Mixtes de Recherche (UMRs) or Fédérations de Recherche (FRs). This award aims to support visits that are three months or longer.

PIMS - CNRS POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS

This award is targeted to applicants that are French, or who have completed their PhD degree in France. We have awarded 25 PIMS - CNRS Postdoctoral scholarships since 2007.

Current PIMS - CNRS PDFs are: Lucas Teyssier (UBC) and Alice Lacaze-Masmonteil (URegina)

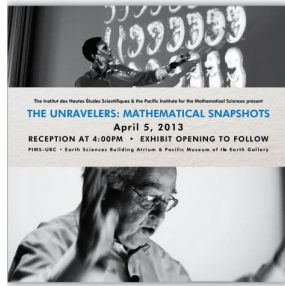

PIMS-CNRS Postdoctoral Fellows:
Lucas Tyssier and Alice Lacaze-Masmonteil

HIGH PROFILE EVENTS

2013 JEAN-PIERRE BOURGUIGNON

Jean-Pierre Bourguignon, former Directeur de recherche, CNRS and Director, Institut des Hautes Études Scientifiques (IHÉS).

- Gave the PIMS Distinguished Lecture titled: “The Work of Misha Gromov, a Truly Original Thinker”.
- Inauguration of the exhibition “Unravelers” an original work by Jean-François Dars, Annick Lesne and Anne Papillault. The book, featuring scientists at IHÉS, was a best seller and led to the creation of an exhibition.

2017 CÉDRIC VILLANI

Cédric Villani (Fields Medalist, Director of the Institut Henri Poincaré, Member of the French Academy of Sciences).

- Jointly sponsored by PIMS, PWIAS, and the Consulate of France.
- Public lecture at the Vogue Theater, downtown Vancouver (~1000 people attended): “The Hidden Beauty of Mathematics” where Villani discussed the interface between mathematics and art, showing how both these disciplines seek to illuminate hidden beauty in the world.
